

I think the current monopoly of 6 mega-media corporations already a anathma. The FCC should be breaking up the current media, not allowing futher consolidation into a monopoly. Why don't you try to watch the current TV news or programs. If you are not yourselves corrupt, you will see the uniformity, and major news ommissions that are so misleading to the public. There is an obvious barrier to alternative viewpoints and democracy. I personally prefer the BBC. Also there should be no crossover of media ownership from TV to radio to internet to phones. Do we need another Teddy Roosevelt to break these monopolies? Please do not all
